GPS Location Data

GPS location data collected from a GPS tracking device, a telematics device, the Btracking mobile device app, the Btracking PhoneTrack mobile device app, or the LBS Edge Suite mobile device app, is used to provide location services on Btracking applications to your corresponding Btracking account only. This data is stored on Btracking cloud servers and may be reviewed by us as needed for providing service, troubleshooting or support purposes. Stored GPS location data is deleted after a period of time, usually about 3 years. We do NOT share your location data or related information of any kind with any third parties other than those service providers directly involved in providing GPS location tracking and fleet management services to you.

If you decline the cookie, you may not be able to use our entire web site.

We also review data and information contained in log files located on our web server, which record the date and time of each visit to our web site, the user's IP (internet protocol) address, the referring IP address or domain (the prior web site visited), and the files viewed on our web site (including HTML pages, graphics, etc.). We use log file information to analyze data in the aggregate to determine the trends and usage of our site. We do not, and will not, disclose, sell, rent or share any information derived from log files with any third parties.
